Dear: Rohan Vasudev B hate

Congratulations! Your technical paper(s) has been selected for inclusion in the SAE International Journals.

Judged to be among the most outstanding SAE Technical Papers of 2009, your paper(s) will be published in the second volume of the SAE International Journal of Engines that is be available online at http://www.saejournals.org/

Please follow the typical reference citation with Author, Title, Journal, Volume, Issue, Page numbers and year when citing your paper.

The SAE Journals have adopted the universally accepted format for paper citations and are available online. This journal format will provide your SAE Technical Paper greater visibility thereby increasing your eligibility for inclusion in the scientific communities’ various indexes. Complete details regarding the SAE Journals can be found online at www.sae.org/journals.

Once again, congratulations on a terrific achievement. Your effort has produced a valuable addition to the SAE International Journals; one that will educate and influence engineers for years to come.

Sincerely,
